Call for Papers: Healthcare Law

The Rutgers Law Record is presently accepting submissions for an upcoming online symposium intended to address emerging issues in Healthcare Law.

The Record is accepting submissions on topics including, but not limited to, constitutional challenges to the recently enacted healthcare reform legislation, physician-patient confidentiality, physician-assisted suicide, pharmaceutical branding, legislation relating to childhood obesity prevention, and medical malpractice reform.

For further information regarding the Rutgers Law Record submission guidelines, please see the Submissions section of our website. Additionally, any inquiries may be directed to the Rutgers Law Record staff at lawrecord@lawrecord.com.

A tentative deadline for submissions to the Rutgers Law Record's symposium on Healthcare Law has been set at October 1, 2010.
